HOHE TANNE GmbH

Portrait

We see ourselves as a medium-sized company with specialization in development, design and production of hygienic components and systems as well as the serial production of precision mechanical components and assemblies.

Our fully automated and networked machinery, which enables us the economic production of small, medium and large batch sizes, makes us one of the most modern workshops of the region.

In interaction with highly qualified assembly team we cope with almost every challenge on the way from the idea to the finished serial product.
